SAVING CHILDREN
HELPING FAMILIES

NUESTROS PEQUEÑOS HERMANOS

IS FAMILY

FAMILY CONNECTS US THROUGH UNCONDITIONAL LOVE

Whether a family is bound by blood, marriage or compassion, its role in our lives makes us whole. Your family helps you feel loved, safe and secure. It is your compass, shaping your responsibility, morality and spirituality. Without it, you would surely lose your way.

Our Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos family operates residential care homes and administers programs for vulnerable children and families in Bolivia, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua and Peru.

Father Wasson in 1956

CREATING THE NPH FAMILY

In 1954, Father William B. Wasson was a young priest in charge of a small church in Cuernavaca, Morelos, Mexico. One hot summer day, a young boy was arrested for stealing from the church's poor box. When Father Wasson heard the boy was homeless, he refused to press charges and asked the judge if he could release the boy to his care.

Just one week later, the local judge sent Father Wasson eight more homeless boys. By year's end, he was caring for 32 boys in residence and Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos (NPH) - Spanish for "Our Little Brothers and Sisters" was born.

For over 60+ years, our homes and programs have served as a family for more than 18,000 vulnerable children and is a valuable local resource for countless families in nine impoverished countries.

POVERTY IS THE PROBLEM

Life is a daily struggle for many children and families in NPH countries. To survive, they must overcome the dangers and hardships that bring an enormous amount of stress into their daily lives. As a result, some turn to drug and alcohol use, gangs, crime or violence as a means of survival. Sadly, those paths are often the most destructive, destroying opportunities and lives in the process.

FAMILIES IN CRISIS PUT CHILDREN AT RISK

When the stresses of poverty, drugs, violence, illness or death are placed upon any family, its well-being and future is endangered. As a result, these children lose their childhood and are pulled deeper into the cycle of poverty. Without help, their chances of escape are very unlikely.

THE REALITY IN NPH COUNTRIES

GANG RECRUITMENT

In Mexico over 30,000 children participate in gangs, which offer false impressions of a family, income and protection to those who have none.⁴

VIOLENCE

El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras have the highest rates of femicide (killing of women) in the world due to gang violence.¹

DROP OUT RATES

Approximately 22.2 million children and adolescents in Latin America are not in school or at risk of dropping out of school each year.⁵

DISPLACEMENT

In 2014, over 68,000 unaccompanied children fled El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Mexico to avoid violent crime, poverty and gangs.²

SANITATION & UTILITIES

One out of four people in the Dominican Republic do not have access to clean water. Millions do not have electricity including Bolivia, Haiti and Peru.⁶

CHILD LABOR

850,000 to 1 million children work in Bolivia, which is the first country to legalize child labor, making the working age just 10 years old.³

FOOD INSECURITY

Almost 11 million children die in developing countries each year. Malnutrition and hunger-related diseases cause 60% of these deaths

HOW NPH BREAKS THE CYCLE OF POVERTY

NPH empowers each student with respect, spiritual guidance, and opportunities to serve in their communities. Youth development programs and life planning assist with creating goals and NPH's mentoring helps each individual reach his/her full potential.

WITHOUT EDUCATION AND MORAL DEVELOPMENT, TEENS CAN EASILY BECOME PARENTS.

Young adults give birth to children which continues the cycle of poverty.

BEFORE ARRIVING AT NPH, most children suffered from hunger and poor nutrition as a result of their family circumstances.⁸

At NPH we grow much of our own food. We provide children with three nutritious meals and snacks every day as well as specialized treatment for those who are underweight.

DEVELOPMENTAL RISKS ARE PRESENT IN CHILDREN WHEN THEY ARRIVE AT NPH.

Malnutrition and neglect increases risks of developmental delay and a host of other medical conditions.⁹

NPH offers comprehensive health care for all children in our programs, including community students who attend our schools.

OPPORTUNITIES ARE LIMITED.

Youths with little or no education often join gangs to avoid being unemployed or taking jobs with poverty wages.

NPH ensures paths to vocational career training and university studies, including opportunities for advanced leadership and formation training.

PUBLIC EDUCATION IS NOT FREE.

Children born into poor households are more likely to drop out of school because they can't afford the fees and materials. Many children have to work to support their family.¹⁰

NPH provides varied pre-K through university education programs based on the unique abilities of each child.

FAMILY IS THE FOUNDATION FOR CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT

BUILDING FAMILIES. SUPPORTING FAMILIES. BEING FAMILY.

At NPH, we know the value of family. From promoting parental care to preventing family separation, we do whatever we can to reinforce and rebuild the family as the best place for the child.

For our children with living relatives, we offer outreach programs that feature critical support and parenting training. In cases where the child has no living family members, we build a strong family structure to promote their healthy development.

The average family member size in Guatemala is 5.9.
Only 1 in 4 indigenous girls stay in school after age 16.

WE ARE A FAMILY TO THOSE WITHOUT ONE

NPH ensures the love, care and support of a family unit. This builds a strong sense of self, community and culture.

As their family, NPH helps children build relationships with their peers through play, empowers them by nurturing self-confidence and provides spiritual formation that is grounded in moral values. This means keeping siblings together, and providing a safe environment, proper education and excellent medical care. Our mission is to free these children from a cycle of poverty by giving them the skills and support so they can shape a better future for themselves.

NPH programs provide each individual child the resources they need to remain in their home country, where as adults they play a critical role in improving their communities.

NPH works in partnership with local child welfare government systems to ensure either a protective state (living at an NPH home temporarily or permanently) or family strengthening (family reintegration with parenting support). Our goal is finding the best solution for each individual child and their family.

If and when an NPH child is reintegrated with family, NPH promises a continuum of care that provides extensive follow-up support focused on the well-being of the child, including a connection to the broader NPH family for life.

“NPH’s family model helps promote well-being in children because it focuses on nurturing, play, and peer support. This helps the brain heal from trauma and aids in creating healthy attachments.”

Ana M. Gómez, MC, LPC, is a psychotherapist in private practice, a researcher, and a national and international speaker.

In 2014, after a government facility in Honduras closed, NPH welcomed 60 new children to our family. Most of them were under four years of age.

NPH Core Programs, ensure that every child is provided the opportunity to thrive in their individual, developmental process.

CARING FOR MEDICALLY FRAGILE CHILDREN

One in five NPH children have special medical needs or a disability, ranging from asthma and cerebral paralysis to epilepsy and HIV. We care for them through life-saving surgeries, specialty medications, consultations with international experts and additional treatment options through our healthcare partner organizations. Without NPH, many would simply not survive. In some cases, we will provide children with chronic conditions round-the-clock care for their entire lives.

Since radiation therapy is not available in Haiti, NPH's St. Damien Pediatric Hospital partners with our Dominican Republic home to offer room, board, care and transportation to Haitian pediatric oncology patients. After receiving therapy in the capital, Santo Domingo, patients return to Haiti for continued care at St. Damien.

The NPH Haiti Kay Germaine Outpatient Rehabilitation Center provides education and therapy for special needs children along with parenting support.

OUR FAMILY RESPONDS

Whether it be responding to a natural disaster or local crisis, or partnering with national child welfare agencies, saving children and their families takes the combined resources of NPH and our partner organizations. Together, we implement the best care practices and customize our services to meet the needs of the surrounding area while ensuring that we adhere to local legal, ethical and cultural standards. By uniting international and local efforts, we are able to achieve meaningful progress in the community.

FAMILY TRANSFORMATIONS

CHILDREN LEADING BY EXAMPLE

Our goal is to prepare NPH children to lead by example in their local communities. We develop these abilities through a variety of educational opportunities, including youth development conferences, and our year of service program. These programs promote self-confidence, leadership development and open doors so that our youth are empowered to pursue their career interests.

International Youth Development Conference is held yearly with participants from all NPH homes.

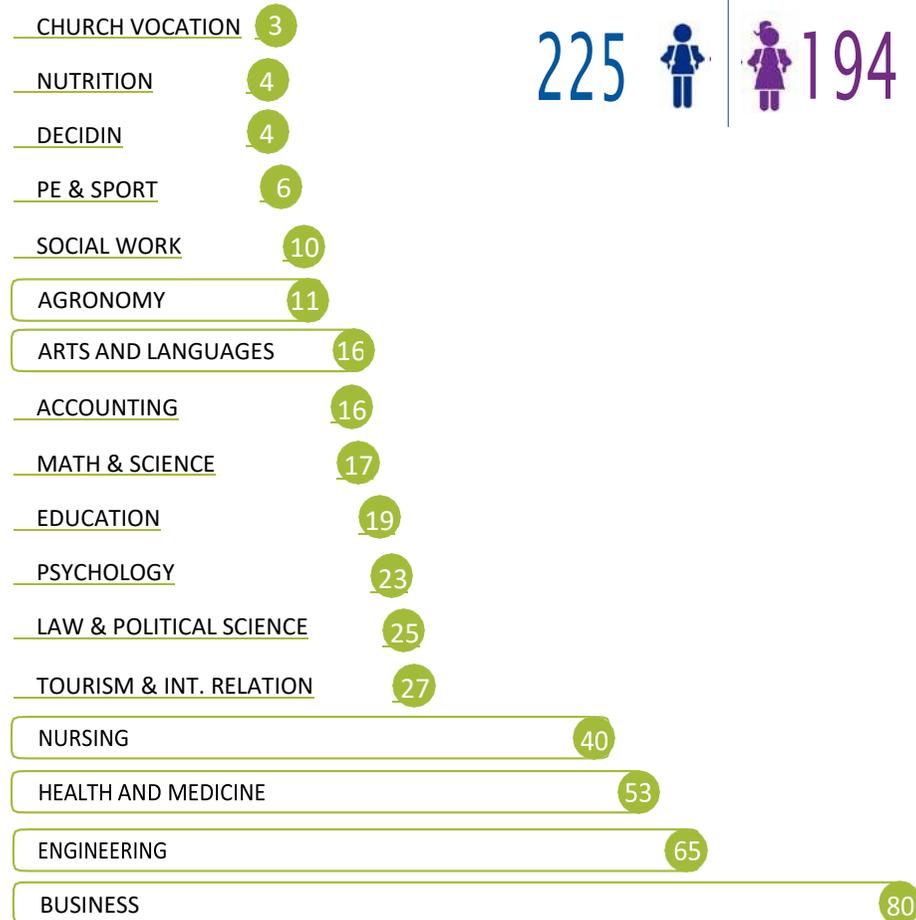

NPH OPENS DOORS TO CAREERS AND COLLEGES

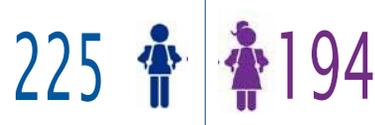

After secondary school, each NPH youth has the opportunity to finish a technical course or pursue a university degree. In return, those that attend college must volunteer for a year of service at NPH before or after the completion of their studies. In sharing their experiences with their family, graduates help and inspire their brothers and sisters to follow in their footsteps.

In our nearby communities, a university degree is rare. But the impact and the leadership of higher education are immeasurable.

ADVANCED SKILLS FOR YOUNG ADULTS

We further develop leadership skills in our young adults through the NPH International Seattle Institute. This program brings some of our most promising youths together to experience a year of service, teamwork and personal growth. For 10 months, these students live with host families in Washington state and attend English classes at a local community college where they experience a broader view of the world around them.

Over 25 young adults are now graduates of this program and have returned to their home countries better prepared to serve their local communities and their extended NPH family in a variety of leadership roles.

POWERFUL GIRLS CAN BREAK THE CYCLE OF POVERTY

At NPH, we are empowering the next generation of women through “Chicas Poderosas” (Powerful Girls). This gender equality program prepares girls to achieve sustainable life goals through education, activities and community service on their way to realizing their full potential.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

In today’s world, collaboration and partnership are more important than ever before. That’s why NPH partners with the iLEAP Global Leadership Program to create specialty leadership training for select members of our adult family and staff. This program prepares attendees to improve their local communities through sustainability and entrepreneurship. Over 30 NPH adults have completed this program and its impact is already being felt in the communities they serve.

BECOMING FAMILY ROLE MODELS

MEET ILEAP GRADUATE DORIS LEMUS

Doris grew up as a member of the NPH El Salvador family and she graduated with a degree in Psychology. As part of her studies, she worked with diverse populations ranging from children to domestic violence survivors to the elderly. Her goal is to help people promote personal change and visualize the positive impact of their lives. Doris is currently working at the NPH Honduras home as the Family Services Coordinator.

We are honored that our NPH youths continue to contribute to their families, communities and the world around them. Through their efforts, the vision of FatherWasson continues to come to life.

Doris in her role as Family Service Coordinator, helps mentor and guide her younger sisters at NPH Honduras.

OUR CHILDREN ARE PAYING IT FORWARD

Many NPH children have gone on to realize their true potential by completing high school, graduating from college or learning a trade.

As leaders of their local communities, you'll often find NPH children working hard to improve the lives of others through volunteering, activism or entrepreneurship.

Meet Aurora Zacarias. She arrived at NPH Mexico at the age of eight. Aurora worked hard and graduated from the University of Monterrey with a degree in Business Administration.

Aurora is now a godmother to a child at her former NPH home in addition to being an excellent ambassador for our organization. Thanks to her corporate responsibility efforts, Aurora's has become a shining corporate contributor to the NPH mission through service projects and donations.

MEET GABRIEL AND SULEMA

Gabriel and Sulema came to NPH from their respective families when they were both nine years old. Both are currently employed and Gabriel is also attending university. After leaving NPH they began their relationship, and they have been together for more than three years.

Gabriel explains, "NPH helped both of us prepare for the future and gave us self-empowerment, set good examples, provided us with an education and most importantly, a good spiritual foundation. NPH is our family. We define family as a place where learning takes place.

Father Wasson was the head of the NPH family for so many years, and we remember his teachings. Even though we have left our NPH home, we carry with us the NPH philosophy and we are living our lives with dignity and grace and providing a good example to all of the youths in NPH. We are very proud to have come from such a strong family."

"Father Wasson told me, 'My children have to be caring people. They have to be able to share with others and to care for people outside who need their help. I want them in their prayers to ask God for kindness. This is a family, they should be acting from the heart, knowing what's right and wrong and acting to do the right thing.'
